H.C. GILLAND DE- FENDS PRESIDENT

Marion Bay in Lime Light
Scores Sen. Va. man Is For The Stars A Stripes.

Anguilla, Miss., Mar. 24, 1917.

Dear Editor Jenkins:
Here is a little thing from the Memphis Commercial Appeal, of Friday, March 3, 1917, that will let you know what we are all behind Wilson here, that we are not all like James K. Vardaman, even if he was elected by a majority of Mississippi voters which will probably never occur again.

From a friend of H. C. Gilliland, Anguilla, Miss., March 24, 1917. The town was filled with patriotism and loyalty today, the occasion being the raising of the national flag, donated by Mr. L. E. Martin. Many people adjoining towns were present. The exercises began with a prayer and address by the Rev. J. E. Ferguson. The high school children marched and sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee," Clyde Gilliland explained what the flag represented, and among other things said:

"When I think of what that flag stands for I am not surprised that Washington followed it across the icy Delaware to Trenton, carried it from Valley Forge to Yorktown, that Robert E. Lee acknowledged its supremacy at Appomattox. I am thankful that Woodrow Wilson, regardless of James K. Vardaman and 11 others like him, sits in the White House today, prepared to defend the flag with the last drop of American blood that flows through his veins."

W. C. P. McKinney, who followed Gen. R. E. Lee for four years, made a strong appeal to the young men to stand by the flag of a united country and President Wilson, at the conclusion of which he raised the flag amid the cheers of the assembly while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

CYCLONE DOES SOME DAMAGE

To J W Blue's Farm in Union Co
$1250 Insurance Partially
Covers The Loss

A cyclone struck Kelly Hogan's place near Geiger lake and broke out windows and unroofed his house, and blew the backwater into his residence, filling it with mud.

It then struck Jake Stewart's place, destroying a barn and tenant house, in which a Mr. Belmer lived.

Walter Talbot's was the next farm visited. The wind unroofed the old Young house and destroyed three barns, a buggy house and other out buildings. Two buggies, about 100 chickens, some oil barrels and a lot of baled hay was also damaged and carried off of this place.

The twister then hit the John Blue place, where Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gray live. Mrs. Gray saw the cloud approaching her home and gives a very clear description of the cyclone. The wind dipped first and took a fence, then struck a new barn, 30x50 feet, close to a concrete silo, demolishing the barn, a second barn, 50x60 feet, was then torn to atoms, as also was a wooden silo near by. A third barn was crushed in. In it there were ten head of mules and three head of horses. One horse was killed and another is expected to die.

Part of the roofing was found across the road on the Sol Blue farm. A strip of timber about 50 yards wide was mowed down.

The cyclone was going in the direction of Morganfield when it left the Blue farm but fortunately missed this city.

No one was injured but some of the men and boys on the Blue place narrowly escaped. They were playing marbles under the shed of one of the barns. The cloud looked so dangerous they stopped the game and ran to the house, the barn falling to the ground just as they reached the house.

In the barns destroyed were 600 or 700 bushels of corn and 300 bales of hay. We understand Mr. Blue had $600 insurance on one barn, $400 on another and $250 on the other. The silo was also insured and the end silage had all been fed out. Jap Waller spent Saturday in adjusting the losses for Mr. Blue and Mr. Talbot.

A. M. Datra also suffered some damage.

MORGAN RAIDER TELLS A STORY

Capt. Lucas, Frankfort, Feels as Fit as In Old Days.

MORGAN'S 'OLD HORSE THIEF'

Morgan's Raiders, loved and honored by every man and woman in the South, and feared throughout the North in the days of '61, are still remembered by their daring raids into the very heart of the North. These fearless men led by John Morgan stopped at nothing, and time after time they slipped past the Union lines and back again bringing with them thousands of dollars worth of plunder. These men, often riding day and night for weeks at a time, sparing nothing to aid the cause of Dixie, earned for themselves the famous name of "Morgan's Raiders." They gave the flower of their youth and strength to the cause dear to the South, and those of them that are left are still remembered and loved in the South and honored in the North.

CAPT. MASON B. LUCAS.

Captain Lucas Popular.

Among these is Captain Mason B. Lucas, who is known throughout Franklin County as "Uncle Mac." He is now finishing his second term as County Jailor, and there is no more widely known or popular citizen in all Frankfort or Franklin County.

During the war, he was Morgan's right-hand man, and his friends love to call him "Morgan's Old Horse Thief" as he was always given command of foraging parties when they had got past the Union lines and were in Northern territory.

"Uncle Mac" is now 73 years old and not long ago he felt that he was getting into the class of old men. But he feels fine again now and says he believes he can straddle his horse from the ground and make as hard a ride as he could in the days of '61.

In telling the story of how he got back his health, he said:

"Some time ago, my stomach went back on me, and I felt heavy and lousy after eating. I got so I couldn't sleep well at night and began to get a little nervous. My appetite wasn't what it used to be either. I didn't seem to ever get hungry. I got worried and decided to try Tanlac.

Sleeps Like a Baby.

"Well sir, after taking two bottles of Tanlac, my appetite is splendid. I sleep like a baby, and feel stronger than I have for years. In fact I feel so good that I don't believe anyone can outdistance me for the re-nomination in the coming Democratic primary."

Tanlac has done me so much good that I felt like I wanted to help some one else, and so I bought a bottle of Tanlac for an old war comrade of mine. Tanlac helped me and I am glad to tell others about it."

Tanlac, the master medicine and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively by J. H. ORME, Marion. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows:

BLACKFORD, A. T. Brown; FREDONIA, W. E. Cox; CEDAR, L. D. McElroy; EDDYVILLE, Winters Drug Co. Adv

Just What Did He Mean?

A lady, who was suffering a slight indisposition, told her husband that it was with the greatest difficulty she could breathe, and the effort distressed her exceedingly. "I wouldn't try, my dear," soothingly responded the husband.

Women With Ballot Do Not Neglect Their Homes and Babies

By DR. MARY HALTON of New York

New Zealand, Norway and Australia, the first three countries with the lowest death rate, are all woman-suffrage countries. In all of the seven which have a lower death rate than the United States women have at least the municipal vote.

In the United States we spend $165,000 a year to protect babies and $600,000 a year to protect hogs. When of all the civilized world the country that has had woman suffrage the longest has the lowest death rate, and the five countries with the next lowest rate all have woman suffrage, can there be a doubt that woman suffrage has brought about better and healthier living conditions for all the people?

Isn't it evident that when mothers are represented in government and their opinions and interest are consulted, babies have a better chance? Isn't it proved that women with the ballot do not neglect their home and babies?

Children Often Are Exposed to Disease

By SAMUEL G. DIXON, M.D., Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania

Few people would willingly jeopardize the life and health of a fellow being. Yet many people, who would emphatically deny intentionally doing harm will endeavor to evade rational restrictions necessary for the protection of others.

In the enforcement of the laws for the protection of the public health numerous instances occur which show how the innocent are made to suffer for the carelessness of others. Rather than undergo a temporary restriction of their usual activities people will often expose others to communicable disease—for instance, scarlet fever.

Parents in particular will often assume the responsibility in exposing their own and other people's children which would make them shudder if they appreciated the true seriousness of it.

Measles, whooping cough and a number of the common ailments of childhood are looked upon as inevitable by people, who are ignorant of the dangers of these diseases and the possibility of avoiding them.

It is a crime willingly to expose children to disease because of the belief that they will eventually fall a victim to it. The old idea that the diseases of children are doubly serious to an adult is untrue. An occasional mild case of a disease in one instance may be responsible for a serious and fatal illness from this same disease if it is communicated to another.

Selfish Motive Seen in Plea for Filipino Independence

By REPRESENTATIVE AARON S. KREIDER of Pennsylvania

Why should the Filipino desire his independence? The United States government has not oppressed the people, but has spent millions of dollars in an effort to uplift them, instituting many reforms for their benefit at great cost. The United States has never exacted one cent in the way of taxes. We have done them only good and not harm, and this at great expense and inconvenience to ourselves.

What, then, can be the motive of the political agitators that desire independence, who are smarting under the control of the United States? It is plainly evident that they would like to exploit for their own personal benefit and go back to the old system of despoliation in vogue not many years ago. They object to the restraining influence and power of the United States. It is the same desire for freedom that is expressed by many young men and women between the ages of fourteen and twenty who wish to avoid the control of their parents over their actions.

LETTER FROM R. ALLEN FOSTER

Is in School at Princeton, N. J.

Some Very Interesting Notes Below

Princeton, N. J.
Mar. 27, 1917.

Dear Mr. Jenkins.

I have been intending all the year to have you send me the Record Press, and this long wait shows how negligent I have been. It does not indicate, however, that I am not interested in home affairs, for I am. Father has sent me several copies of the Press when something especially interesting had happened. But I want to have the whole story of what is happening, not just little intermittent peeps in at your door. I want to come in and stay with you and feel that you are with me and I with you perennially. For I was nursed upon those hills of Crittenden, many has been the time that I have driven afield my team at the time the jocund day stood, tiptoe on those misty hilltops, old "Bald Knob" for example. Even now I hear the morning voices of my neighbors, and the lowing herds that responded to their call. Many has been the time in Crittenden that I have followed along her rows of corn and tobacco, and tossed her hay into the lofts till the live long daylight failed. Many times have I drunk the water from her brooks, as pure as ever ran, and many are the noontide hours that I have ungrudgingly wasted beneath her shade.

It is not that I did not love those hills and valleys that I left them. It was merely an inborn desire to see what lay beyond them. Now that I know the bogs and stench of the Jersey meadows, I can return with pleasure to the land where the summer days come oftest, nor shall I forget it while on my world wide wanderings. I have walked many times in the lights of Broadway, have stood on Brooklyn Bridge deep into the night looking at "The Sky Line" and watching the steamer ferries ply East River and the New York Bay. But I have rather spend my night hours in looking at star lit eyes in God's own Crittenden. So enclose please find one dollar for which please send me weekly word from you, at Apartment 23, Graduate College, Princeton, N. J. and at Appalachia Camps, Boothbay Harbor, Maine after June 1st.

Princeton itself and much of Jersey is wonderful to see. The fogs I mentioned passed away in a night time, but they are so been able to find out, the thought thick when we do have them that is entirely original, and surely many disasters occur on their expression is original for it.

CHARLES THRELKELD as a candidate for Magistrate, in Piney district, No. 8, subject to the action of the Republican primary,
August 4th, 1917.

The Livingston Co., Paper
Of Smithland Had This To Say About Duron Koon.

The Enterprise is authorized to place the announcement of Duron Koon, of Crittenden county before its readers as a candidate for Representative from this district, subject to the democratic primary to be held Aug. 4th, 1917.

For six years past, Mr. Koon has been teaching in the schools of Crittenden county where he is well and favorable known. He comes before the voters of the two counties highly recommended.
He possesses, in an eminent degree, the necessary qualifications for the position to which he aspire, and if nominated and elected his constant aim will be to make a record of which his friends will take pride as well as the honor he will receive for himself.

His attainments have been obtained by industry and close study and application. He contemplates making a canvass solicits as many voters as opportunity affords, hoping, if he should fail to meet any one, that he may be honored by that one's vote, which he will very much appreciate.

His many Crittenden county friends regard him as one of the most deserving young men of that county with ability to cope, with his opponents in the campaign and hold his own in the halls of legislation. His candidacy is before the people and he will cheerfully abide by their expressed wishes.

With the request that its readers
give his claims due consideration.
The Enterprise feels that no mistake will be made by them in the selection of a standard-bearer in that district, if he wins the nomination.

Evansville, Ind., March 27.—Love for his country caused William B. Schuster, 21 years old, living at 208 Poplar street, to join the United States navy here against the wishes of his father.

According to the young man his father, Frank Schuster, told him that if he joined the navy he did so against his wishes and that he should never darken his doors again.

"My father," said the young man, "was born in Germany, and he feels that it would be wrong for his son to fight against the Fatherland in the event that war is declared between the United States and Germany. However, I was born in this country and have made my living here. I feel that it is my duty to defend my country if it is necessary. I believe that my father will feel after a while that I am right and will permit me to come back home."

M'Candless Freed By Governor From Long Prison Term.

Frankford, Ky., Mar. 27—Gov. A. O. Stanley issued a pardon to Claude McCandless, a prominent citizen of Smithland, sentenced to from two to 21 years in the penitentiary for the alleged killing of Barney Trimble at Smithland in 1914, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The McCandless case at Smithland for the past two years has aroused much interest in this city. McCandless is well known in Paducah. In 1914 he shot and killed Barney Trimble of Smithland, over domestic trouble. McCandless claimed that Trimble had insulted his wife. The jury at the first trial sentenced McCandless to from two to 21 years in the penitentiary. A new trial was granted on several points, but the second jury rendered the same verdict, and the case was carried to the court of appeals.

Tuesday morning the appellate court of Kentucky affirmed the decision of the lower court, giving McCandless a jail sentence of from 2 to 21 years.

Capt. Fred McCandless of this city, brother of Claude McCandless, left this morning for Smithland with the pardon and will bring his brother back to this city on the steamer Dorothy.—Paducah News-Democrat.

Vast Resources Of Siberia Are Unrivaled in The Old World.

Siberia is destined one day to become the richest country in the world, for it has a natural wealth so diversified, and as yet almost untouched, that it has no rival in the old world. How vast this wealth is described by A. Kammer in LaNature.

Before the war Siberia was producing from 1,000,000 to 1,300,000 tons of flour a year. As a grazing country it has no limits and it exports large quantities of leather, tallow and butter. Its forests are almost inexhaustible and it supplies furs to all the world.

J. W. Blue and his sister Mrs. E. B. Krausse of St. Louis, Mo., went to Tulsa and Milburn Oklahoma last week to visit their sisters Miss Nonie Blue and Mesdames J. J. Clark and Chas. Evans.

Mrs. Simp Weldon was taken to the Walker Sanitarium in Evansville Tuesday afternoon to be operated on for an enlargement of the spleen. Her husband and family physician accompanied her.

Mrs. E. H. Holtsciau received a message Tuesday afternoon from her son, Melrose Vernon, who was operated on, and from its tone she is much encouraged as to his condition and improvement.

Rev. T. Ashbourne of Knoxville, Tenn., general field man for Sunday School extension, and also for the Young Peoples work of the C. P. Church, will lecture here next Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Virginia Sale and her son Marmaduke Sale and attorney J. T. Colston of Louisville arrived Thursday and are now domiciled in the Park Wilsonia property which they leased in January and which has been in process of preparation for them much of the time since. They are interested in mines in this vicinity and own the Dixie mines and other prospects in this county.

We welcome them to Crittenden County and trust their ventures may all prove profitable and pay handsome dividends.

The new project will reclaim 2,755 acres of swamp and lake land near the Illinois river, and the land reclaimed is expected to make some of the best farm land in the state. Several well known shallow lakes will be drained, among them Buckheart, Beckster Johnson and VanDyke lakes.

The levee will be the biggest item of expense. The estimates place the cost of construction of the levee at $102,000. The embankment will average seventeen feet in width, while the top of the levee will be eight feet in width.

Mrs. Albert Lamb, of Colorado is visiting relatives here.

AMERICA PREPARED IN FINANCIAL WAY

No Possibility of Panic Declares Thomas W. Lamont in Address.

Chicago, March 23.—Thomas W. Lamont, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., in an address delivered tonight before investment bankers of the Middle West on "America Financially Prepared," reviewed financial conditions in this country. He said in part:

"Of America's exports for 1916 totaling almost $5,000,000,000 approximately $4,000,000,000 were sold to England, France, Russia and their possessions. In the two years previous these same countries purchased from America $3,500,000,000 of goods making total purchases for the three years of approximately $7,500,000,000."

"In the same period we have granted credit to these countries of something less than $5,000,000,000. These figures show how the trade of these countries has been of an enormous value to America and would more than warrant extension of continued credit, even if the Entente nations had not been fighting our battles for us, as we believe they have, even if we were not about to cast our lot in with them."

"It may take some time for America to assist actively in a military way, but in financial measures she can render assistance this very moment. If the Treasury should decide to issue a Government obligation tomorrow for a billion dollars the whole sum would be waiting for it."

"Fortunately, in a financial way, our country is in a state of complete preparedness. There is no sign of panic and no possibility of one. The community has passed through all the apprehension of impending war without a tremor. As a solid and unshakable basis we have an enormous stock of gold. These same allied nations that have in the last three years bought from America nearly $7,500,000,000 of our foodstuffs, raw materials and manufactured goods have in the same period shipped in gold over $1,200,000,000, bringing America's stock of the precious metal up to a figure unprecedented for any country, namely, $3,150,000,000."

Notice.
We have real "winter layers" in S. C. Rhode Island Red. Brilliant, red plumage, healthy, vigorous strain eggs for hatching, until April 15 $1.00 per 15.

331 Passengers On Liner Reached Bordeaux Safely.

New York, March 28.—The French Line steamship Rochambeau arrived at Bordeaux safely yesterday, according to a cablegram received here today from one of the passengers. The Rochambeau left New York on March 12 with 331 passengers, of whom 107 were American citizens.

Important Notice

On account of complaints being made of the pollution of the water supply from the lake I have decided and deem it best to have all stock taken off of the lake lot and will not rent said premises for pasture or otherwise after this date. All persons are requested to keep horses, cows, hogs, and other live stock. Also geese, ducks and chickens out of said enclosure which is now posted. All persons are requested not to throw cans, trash or rubbish of any kind into this lot. Effie W. Jenkins, Owner. Mar. 1, 1917.

exhibiting a bushel of wampum. To the old West gold was money and silver was small change, but paper simply meant nothing at all.

This has been one of the last Western mannerisms to survive the gradual standardization of the whole country. Step by step the different sections of the country are losing their sectional differences and becoming as indistinguishable from one another as twin sisters. The Treasury Department's announced plan to take the gold piece out of circulation on the Pacific Coast will finish the standardizing job as far as the west is concerned. East will be no longer East, West no longer West, and presently the twain shall meet, long before the time mentioned by Mr. Kipling.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

English Bullet Affects

Aluminum Market.

A peculiar circumstance in the manufacture of English rifle bullets is said to be responsible, in part at least, for the increased price of aluminum. Shortly after the outbreak of the war England gave up making round nosed bullets and produced, instead, a pointed variety with a solid lead point inclosed in a cupronickel jacket. Some time later it was discovered that these missiles were not properly balanced for the English type of gun. After many tests the difficulty was overcome by inserting a little aluminum cone, 3-8 inch high, in the apex of the cartridge jacket. While the weight of a single cone is of course, almost negligible the total amount of aluminum required for England's rifle ammunition runs into thousands of pounds.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

New Teeth in Old Age.

Letter From Mississippi.

Peter Minor, 75 years old, is a remarkable specimen of the mountain man. He is cutting a new set of teeth. During the spring he mowed 150 rails a day himself and built 288 panels of seven-rail fences. He cleared five acres of newground and rolled his own log, has all this in corn. At his mountain home, hid in the fastness, he scientifically cultivates flowers, having so many varieties that he has roses blooming all the year round.—Charleston (W. Va.) Dispatch New York World.

HOW CRACK TROOPS DEVELOP

French Method of Picking Real Fighters Among Recruits—Result of Modern Warfare.

During the first part of the war careful watch was kept by the French general staff over the way every regiment and division acted. In the acid test of battle this division proved its ability to advance under fire, that regiment failed. Gradually the "crack" organizations were known. These picked men were quartered about 20 or 30 miles behind the lines, and they live like athletes training for a prize fight. They have great athletic fields, where they play football and practice field sports. Theaters and music are provided for their amusement. While things are quiet at the front they are kept in as perfect physical and mental condition as art and science can devise. Then, when the commanders at the front need men for a charge against German trenches across the shell-swept open fields, word is sent back for these special troops. The needed number are told off, they are loaded into automobiles, carried swiftly to the front, singing and eager; they make their charge; trench troops move up and occupy the ground the have gained, and the attackers—such as are left of them—go back to their football and training to get ready to go to the next point in the line that needs them.

What the French have done the Germans and the British have done likewise. These "troops of attack" are a development of modern warfare. —World's Work.

PLAN NEW HOTEL IN VOLCANO

Famous Hawaiian Hostelry at Crater's Edge to Be Replaced by New Building.

The Volcano House hotel, which has the distinction of being the only hotel in the world situated within the crater of an active volcano, is about to be torn down and rebuilt on a larger scale.

The new buildings will be erected on the site of the present hotel, which stands upon a wide shelf within the outer wall of the great crater of Kilauea volcano in Hawaii, and commands an uninterrupted view of the dead lava flows and the lake of fire which forms the active portion of the crater itself.

The ancient log cabin smoking room, which has sheltered many a famous scientist and traveler, will be preserved, together with the record books, in which the opinions and impressions of people of world-wide reputation are written.

Carriage Business Holds Up Well. In spite of the wonderful run on automobiles which has only been equaled by the similar sale of bicycles a decade ago, the carriage business holds up and the manufacturers predict a very satisfactory season in 1916, according to a Syracuse, N. Y., dealer in carriages and wagons.

"Those who maintain stables in spite of the automobile are buying harness of the same standard used years ago. It is quite likely that horse-drawn vehicles will never return to their former popular favor, but they are passing out of use much more slowly than the average individual realizes."

Dropped Bombs on Bucharest And Killed Hundreds.

London, March 24.—More than 1,000 persons were killed in Bucharest by the attacks of German aircraft prior to the abandonment of the city by the Romanians, according to an account of the raids given out at Jassy, the present capital, and forwarded on a Reuter dispatch. In a single day 300 persons were killed by the Zeppelins and airplanes. On this occasion, the report states, a group of airplanes descended to a low altitude and spent several hours in seeking victims, killing workmen and workwomen in the fields and streets.

The Volcano House hotel, which has the distinction of being the only hotel in the world situated within the crater of an active volcano, is about to be torn down and rebuilt on a larger scale.

The new buildings will be erected on the site of the present hotel, which stands upon a wide shelf within the outer wall of the great crater of Kilauea volcano in Hawaii, and commands an uninterrupted view of the dead lava flows and the lake of fire which forms the active portion of the crater itself.

The ancient log cabin smoking room, which has sheltered many a famous scientist and traveler, will be preserved, together with the record books, in which the opinions and impressions of people of world-wide reputation are written.

Carriage Business Holds Up Well.

In spite of the wonderful run on automobiles which has only been equaled by the similar sale of bicycles a decade ago, the carriage business holds up and the manufacturers predict a very satisfactory season in 1916, according to a Syracuse, N. Y., dealer in carriages and wagons.

SHOULD WOMEN VOTE?

(BY CORA E. CLIFT)

Should women vote? This question is asked quite often now.

Sometimes I think they ought to be given the right, and then again I ask myself if it is quite right why not let the men rule this nation without the help of women? It looks like they could, and should, and yet they have failed to do so in many things.

I believe that the home is the place for women, and if the men of this fair land of ours would strive to protect and defend the rights of women as they should, there would never be any need for women to suffice.

Is it the men's fault that they have no more respect for women than what they have?

I sometimes think that if women would try rising to be the true women that God intended them to be, that men would respect them more than they do. I do not mean that there is no good pure women these days, but I certainly do think that there is quite a number of them, who are far from what they ought to be, and far from what God intended them to be. I am more for suffrage than I am against it, and believe that all the states in the union will soon give the women the privilege to vote, and that such evils as intoxicating drinks and white slavery will be abolished forever.

Men fought and died to abolish negro slavery, which showed how great was their hate for it, and today there are many men who will not make one movement to save the fair girls of this land from an everlasting shame and disgrace, when their forefathers fought and died for the freedom of black slavery, which was nothing to be compared with white slavery the blackest crime of all ages, this is the reason so many women are fighting so hard for woman suffrage, and by giving the right to vote will do away with this great evil, I hope and trust that our heavenly father will give them the right.

Attractions of Christian Work

By REV. HOWARD W. POPE
Moody Bible Institute,
Chicago

TEXT—Pray we therefore the Lord the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.—Matthew 9:38.

Many complaints are heard in these days about the scarcity of Christian workers. We are told that the streams are dwindling just as the time when the banks should overflow. Doubtless there are many reasons for this, but one principal reason, I am sure, is the fact that so little is said about the attractions of Christian work.

We are constantly informed that ministers as a class are overworked and underpaid, and that they cross the "deadline" at fifty, but seldom do we hear the other side presented. There is another side, and if those who enjoy their work would occasionally set forth its attractions, surely there would be more young men to say: "Lord, here am I, send me!" Among the minor attractions the following may be mentioned:

1. It is a life of contact with men and books. It compels one to read, think and study human nature. A Christian worker may indulge in a wider range of reading than most men. If he has any hobby, such as botany, geology, or electricity, he can pursue it to his heart's content. No knowledge comes amiss to him. Nature and the supernatural are so related that one illustrates and explains the other. For a lawyer or doctor such studies would be a digression, but a Christian worker may explore the heavens, the earth, or the bottom of the sea, and come back better fitted for the special work to which God has called him.

2. The variety of the work is also an attraction. Preaching, prayer meeting and visiting the sick are but a small part of it. He is expected to agitate temperance, to be enthusiastic on missions and to aid Christian endeavor. In fact, every good cause looks to him for support. To be sure, with so many calls upon him, he has little time for profound study, but out of it all he gains experience and versatility and becomes a good, all-around man. He learns what his forte is, and if he is wise he devotes himself mainly to that, leaving to others the work for which he is not fitted. Of all callings ours is the least monotonous. It is a life of constant activity and continual change.

3. One of the chief attractions of Christian work to me is the opportunity which it affords for religious growth. What I am spiritually I owe to my profession. Indeed, knowing my disposition, I am convinced that had I chosen any other calling I should by this time have had a good bank account and a soul as small as a mustard seed. A soul-winner must be a good man or fail. His own or others' necessities drive him constantly to the throne of grace and compel him to live in closest fellowship with God.

4. It is no more than fair to admit that there are some discouragements as well as attractions. Inadequate compensation is one of them. The Christian worker is expected to have the instincts of a millionaire, the generosity of a prince, to dress as well as the best, and to do it all on a small income. And, strange as it may seem, most of them manage to do it.

A lady once said to a friend of mine: "I would as soon take a ticket to the poorhouse as marry a theological student." But some of the best and brightest girls do not think so, as almost every personage can testify. Parish breezes will sometimes spring up and threaten to wreck one's usefulness, but if one will keep his temper and restrain his tongue, the storm will usually blow over and leave him stronger than ever in the affections of his people.

5. The supreme attraction of Christian work, however, is the opportunity which it affords for usefulness, and usefulness of the highest kind. The merchant, the manufacturer and the farmer are all useful men. They supply the wants of the body; but our business is to transform the body into a temple of the Holy Ghost. The surgeon sets broken bones; but we heal broken hearts. The lawyer administers justice, but the Christian worker proclaims mercy. The one examines titles of real estate, while the other secures titles to mansions in the skies.

A million a month are dying in China without a knowledge of Jesus Christ. The entire continent of Africa is still clothed in darkness, for we have only touched the hem of her garment with the days of Gospel light. The agonizing appeals of our home-missionary superintendents are enough to thrill a heart of stone. Surely the wants and woes of humanity are in themselves an attraction. And if anything more were needed, is it not found in the final words of our blessed Master: "All power is given unto me in heaven and earth. Go ye therefore unto all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

His Reason.

A woman left her little boy of four years with a neighbor while she went shopping. He persisted in remaining out on the front steps despite all efforts to entice him. He asked him why he would rather stay there and he said, "I want to see if my mamma is ever coming to town."

SEED BED METHOD OF PREPARATION

Some Interesting Facts Concerning Land That Probably Some of Our Farmers Do Not Know

On the preparation of the seed bed, the harvest depends to a greater extent than the majority of farmers think.

We farmers like to have as possible providing that it costs us nothing, for that help. Now we have millions of helpers in the bacteria, in the soil, if we give them a fair chance. Why not give these million of helpers, that cost us nothing, the best kind of a chance. You say it is expensive to do this. Try this method out on a quarter of an acre, for a few years and compare returns from that quarter of an acre for 5 years and see whether the extra labor does not pay. I will describe the method as follows:

1st. We must have lots of decaying vegetable matter for these helpers to grow, and multiply on. (Bacteria) They must be well distributed through the soil. How will we do this?

We will spread our manure during the winter, as it is being made, so that none of its bacteria and fertilizing properties will be lost by washing away. This spread manure will also help in preventing any washing of the soil.

When the soil is not too wet, or not too dry, we will disc this soil until we have a pulverized 4 inches of soil. Then we will plow 8 inches deep.

Next we will spread another layer of manure, and then disc again 4 inches, until we have this pulverized, and the manure well distributed. We will then have a seed bed 8 inches deep, with the bacteria well distributed all through it, also the soil.

5. The supreme attraction of Christian work, however, is the opportunity which it affords for usefulness, and usefulness of the highest kind. The merchant, the manufacturer and the farmer are all useful men. They supply the wants of the body; but our business is to transform the body into a temple of the Holy Ghost. The surgeon sets broken bones; but we heal broken hearts. The lawyer administers justice, but the Christian worker proclaims mercy. The one examines titles of real estate, while the other secures titles to mansions in the skies.

The entire continent of Africa is still clothed in darkness, for we have only touched the hem of her garment with the days of Gospel light. The agonizing appeals of our home-missionary superintendents are enough to thrill a heart of stone. Surely the wants and woes of humanity are in themselves an attraction. And if anything more were needed, is it not found in the final words of our blessed Master: "All power is given unto me in heaven and earth. will be treated enough, to give an soil a finer rate together, to cover a good chain of soil, and to make it pulverized. 7. Roll and plow or only turn the particles of soil surface, and deposit on the after of soil evenly distributed.

8. Cultivate as soon as possible without injuring the young plants.

Try this method this spring on a quarter of an acre and I am sure that you will be well repaid for the labor expended.—Dr. O. H. Welner Gillette, Minn.

A BIT OF ADVICE

First--Don't Delay. Second--Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache; headaches or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Marion residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Marion citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

Mrs. J. R. Summerville, 309 E. Depot St., Marion, says: "Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions for slight disorders of my kidneys. From the results obtained I am only too glad to recommend and advise the use of this medicine to anyone subject to a weak or lame back."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney—get Doan's Kidney Pill the same that Mrs. Summerville had. Foster-Milburn Company Proos, Buffalo, N. Y. 66

OLD GRAND RIVERS FURNACE SOLD

Tennessee Man Purchases and is to Operate it in Vicinity.

The old iron furnace at Grand Rivers has been sold the past few days to Mr. J. C. MacAdams of Scottsville, Tenn. and it will either be moved to another location or a new one built. The interest Mr. MacAdams represents also purchased a big acreage of iron ore land, and the plans of the company comprehend the shipping of the iron to West Virginia by barge and loading the barges for the return trip with coke.

Mr. George Emery brought this information back from a trip he made to Lyon county yesterday. Mr. Emery said the people of Kuttawa, are trying to induce Mr. MacAdams to locate the furnace at Kuttawa, but he is undecided.

"I asked Mr. MacAdams what he thought about the Armor Plate Plant," Mr. Emery said today, "and he very quickly replied that he thought it should come to Paducah by all means as Paducah, in his opinion, was the best place for it."—Paducah Sun.

New Albany Escaped in Disastrous 1890 Cyclone.

Twenty-seven years ago, on Friday, March 27, Louisville and Jeffersonville were swept by a disastrous cyclone, entailing the loss of more than 100 lives and $2,000,000 worth of property. New Albany escaped untouched.

Starting about 8:30 o'clock at night, there were two successive whirlwinds lasting about five minutes each, a lull and then a tornado with lighting and deluge of rain. From Eighteenth and Maple streets the cyclone traveled diagonally northeast, demolishing residences and business blocks. The Falls City Hall, the wholesale tobacco district on Main street and the Seventh street depot were destroyed. It jumped across the river to Jeffersonville, but no lives were lost here.

The greatest loss of life occurred at the falls City Hall. On the first floor were about fifty children taking dancing lessons. Most of them were accompanied by their mothers. On the third floor Jewel Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, was in session with about 125 persons present. The building shook from roof to foundation. The second and third floors gave way as if there was nothing there to hold them. About seventy five persons were killed here and many more injured.

Fire broke out among the ruins. The fire department was handicapped, as the tower of the waterworks had been destroyed. Citizens with picks and shovels helped in the rescue work. The Louisville Legion was delegated to assist the police. A relief fund of $20,000 was provided by the City Council, and the citizens raised as much more.

The following Sunday, Palm Sunday, was a day of funerals.

The horses drawing the hearses and carriages were driven in a brisk trot all day. One instance was noted where a group of carriages was preceded by five hearses.

Eight Places in Indiana Hit.

Indianapolis, March 28.—Tornadoes and windstorms which struck eight places in Indiana to-day took a heavy toll of lives and did enormous damage to property. New Albany, where more than forty lives were lost and where damage to business and residence property is estimated at $2,000,000 was the heaviest sufferer. In Delaware, Hendricks, Sullivan, Adams, Grant, Harrison and Jackson counties wide stretches of territory were swept by the winds.

Near Danville, in a path a mile wide and six miles long, houses and barns were cleared and property damage estimated at $50,000 was done. There was no loss of life.

A tornado did heavy damage in the southern part of Sullivan county, where a path eighteen miles long and three fourths of a mile wide was made by the wind. Two lives were lost, a number of persons were injured and property was damaged to the extent of $200,000, it is estimated.

In Delaware county a severe windstorm caused probably fatal injuries to a child and less serious injuries to other persons and heavy property losses were suffered.

Five persons were hurt near Seymour by a windstorm which damaged houses and barns and razed trees and telephone and telegraph poles. A path four miles long was swept by the winds.

North of Decatur the village of Monmouth was struck and a number of persons were injured. Buildings were destroyed and miles of fencing and electric wires were blown down.

Teachers at one school, seeing the approaching storm, took the pupils to the basement of the building before the roof was whipped from over their heads. Near Corydon, two women were probably fatally injured by the storm and many pupils at the Coopsey school suffered broken arms and other injuries when the building was razed. Two Grant county men were hurt in a storm near Swazee.

Fire broke out among the ruins. The fire department was handicapped, as the tower of the

Thought He Was Dying.

Boyleston, Pa.—Chief Burgess John Yardley now knows how far the power of imagination can be worked. It appears that he received a telephone call from a Hatboro physician asking for the ambulance; that a prominent man of that place had swallowed his false teeth and was slowly choking to death.

The ambulance was not sent for reason that Abington was the nearer place; but the sequel to the call was that when the man in the case awoke from a nap his artificial masticators were missing, and he concluded that he must have swallowed them. He so firmly convinced himself of this that a specialist was hurriedly brought from Philadelphia.

The patient indicated a point in his throat, and the specialist upon examination also decided that the teeth were there. Then something happened that made the family physician, the specialist and all others concerned look sheepish. As the suffering man was being helped from his couch the missing teeth, which probably had dropped from his mouth while he slept, tumbled to the floor. He had rolled over and was sitting on them; but they had not bitten him.
